--Hinton to "Hop Off"
There; Boat Is Sampaio
Correia

And the flying boat, equipped with two 100-horsepower Pratt & Whitney motors, has been brought from the Navy Department, and the tuning up of this powerful air cruiser will begin tomorrow at the navy aircraft factory at Philadelphia.

Mr. Hinton will have in his party, Ed E. Pinto, Maricao, a well-known Brazilian, as navigator; John Wishnow, chief mechanic, a historian of the flight, a Pathe motion picture cameraman and a radio operator.

It is expected that the start will be from West 86th street Aug. 12. Mr. Hinton will leave New York Aug. 8 to load the flying boat.

Will Be Dedicated.

Bedecked with American and Brazilian flags, the aircraft will be mooned off West 86th street for ceremonies which are to dedicate the flight as a gift to the Brazilian American people in the people of Brazil.

If successful, this flight will be the first between the Americas and one of the longest ever undertaken. The arrival in Rio de Janeiro will be about Sept. 7, the opening day of the World's Exposition there.

The centennial of Brazilian Independence from Portugal.

An air jaunt up the Amazon will be attempted after arrival at Para. Brazil's first big banana, 750 metric tons up the Amazon, where fuel will be obtained, the Hinton-Martins party hopes to find it practicable to road over the Rio Theodoro, the famous 'River of Doubt' explored by Roosevelt and his son, for the river has been Brazilian Government. Upon the return to Para the cruise to Rio de Janeiro will be resumed.

It is probable the air cruiser will be overhauled at Rio for a continuation of the cruise to Buenos Ayres.

Will Be Chased

Though the distance is nearly four times that 'between New York and Liverpool, the flight will be free from some of the usual hazards of long distance overwater flying, as the North and South American coasts and the West Indies will make it possible for the flyers to keep in touch with land. For this reason no navy patrol is to be asked. All spare parts for the trip are to be carried on board.

Democrats Trying to Redeem Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 29.—National interest centers in the outcome of the Democratic and Republican primaries in Tennessee on Thursday.

This election of the party nominees will precede the first test of party strength in the state since Tennessee broke away from the Democratic "Solid South" two years ago and gave its electoral vote to the Republican candidate.

The candidates of Cordell Hull, the Democratic national chairman, and Finis J. Garrett, acting Democratic house leader, have focused the eyes of party leaders in other states on the results in Tennessee.

United States senator, governor, members of the legislature, ten members of Congress, and a member of the railroad commission are to be elected in November.

Senator K. D. McKellar, who is opposed for re-nomination, the Democratic ticket by Captain G. T. Fitzhugh, of Memphis former Representative T. W. Simm, of Lexington, and Noah W. Cooper, of Nashville.

Senator McKellar is asking for another term on the record which Captain Fitzhugh is attacking. Mr. Simm is urging acquisition by the government of real estate owned by the railroads and its lease to the operating companies while Mr. Cooper is an advocate of strict enforcement of Sunday "blue laws."

Cordell Hull, who went down to defeat in the Republican landslide of 1926 is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the fourth district. He will oppose Representative C. C. Harris, Republican, who beat him two years ago.

The return of Representative Garrett, acting minority house leader on the Democratic ticket is being contested by W. W. Craig of Ripley Representative. E. B. Byrnes and Fisher are unopposed for re-nomination.

There are contests for the Republican nomination in the first, second and third districts and for the Democratic nominations in the seventh, eighth and ninth.

The Democrats are figuring on recapturing the three districts which they lost in the landslide two years ago, the third, eighth and fourth.

Judge S. D. McReynolds is being put forward to lead the fight to regain the third.

Four candidates are seeking the Democratic nomination for governor. Benton McMillan, a former governor, former member of Congress, and former minister to South American republics under the administration of President Wilson is opposed for the position by Austin Hays, Clark Hays, Harvey H. Hanes, former assistant general and present railroad commissioner from East Tennessee, and former State Senator L. E. Gwynn, of Covington.

Mr. Hays is a former member of the House of Representatives, and is a member of the Senate. He is a member of the House of Representatives, and is a member of the Senate.

Gov. A. F. Taylor, the incumbent, is unopposed for the Republican nomination. He has been taking the situation quietly. Republican leaders are not telling the story of his record.

Democratic candidates for railroad commissioner are Popper Dunlap, of McKenzie, former state treasurer, and John H. Trice, of Jackson, former prison commissioner. The victor will be opposed by W. N. Beasley, of Hills, Republican.

Democratic leaders are hoping for an impetus in their contests, they say, as a result of the increase which they expect in the women vote.

National Chairman Hull has been urging the women to go to the polls, and Mrs. Halsey W. Wilson, of New York, toured the state at the instance of the national Democratic organization in an effort to stir the Democratic women.

Postmaster Work Opens Big Display In Windy City

CHICAGO, July 29.—What he termed "a peasant of savagery, still unenraged was condemned in the opening address of the postmaster general today at the Postmaster General Hubert Work, declaring he wished "as one who believes in the principles of unionism and collective bargaining" to warn "all organized labor that sanctions or commits violence is a criminal."

Work, who recently stalked abroad in day in this fair state still unenraged, would have pallored the painted Indian," he said.

While expressing concern over industrial relations, the postmaster general also approved of the new law concerning the modern young person and concerning prevailing feminine modes. He said that the fashionable short skirt hung from the shoulders with unrestricted waist was something which physicians have urged for years.

Some of the young people we see in public places may appear to be care-free and light-minded," said Dr. Work, "but I know that the mothers of the United States have in the last generation produced a higher type of citizenry than the country has ever before known."

"I would make an appeal for the relief of those who work with both hands and hands, from those who work only with their hands and who are being deceived by their owners for the moment into personal gain."

Those labor organizations which restrict the available employment in a community to its preferred members and prohibit other members from seeking employment where they find it, he said, have not in mind the principle of the greater good in the greatest number. They are blindly bidding for the open shop; the competition of de-organization within their own ranks and a return to the old method of wage determining by efficiency, governed by the law of supply and demand rather than to their own formulated rules.

"One half of organized labor is conservative. They are home owners and their children become good citizens. They must work soon break away from those who are deceiving the discord of the riches and necessities of others who do not approve or create the creed. An honest day's work for an honest day's pay, or so are willing to do murder to kill competition."

Woman Pharmacist Is Engaged Here

A Danville drug company has the honor of having engaged one of the few women pharmacists now practicing in this state. Miss Myrtle Patterson, of South Boston, a graduate of the Medical College of Maryland as a pharmacist, will be in Danville at that capacity at Patterson's Drug Company on August 1st.

There are said to be only about half a dozen women pharmacists in the state.

Says Wife Tried To Face Him To Make Confession

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 29.—Melvin E. Trotter, superintendent of the city rescue mission, was not the father of the babe born in July 1917, to his secretary, Florence Moody, according to the girl's testimony today in Mrs. Trotter's suit for separate maintenance.

She testified, as did Trotter who followed her on the stand, that they had never made confession of the pregnancy to Mrs. Trotter.

Miss Moody was not required to disclose the identity of the father, the object of the defense to such a question in the cross examinations being sustained by Judge M. L. Dunham, despite a long argument of attorney Myron H. Walker, of counsel for Mrs. Trotter.

Mrs. Trotter did appeal to him to satisfy her doubt relative to his relations with Miss Moody, Trotter testified.

"It was on an evening in the summer of 1917, we were out riding," Trotter said. "There was a beautiful sunset. I was talking about it and she was too. Placing her hand in mine—I was driving—she said, 'honey there is only one thing to make this a complete paradise, if you will just tell me whether you are responsible for Moody's condition.'"

"At another time, or a little later as we were on the porch of our cottage at Macatawa park Mrs. Trotter wanted to know if I would do something to make her very happy. She put her hand in mine and said, 'please tell me if you are the father of Moody's baby.'"

"What did you say on the occasions?" Attorney C. E. Ward asked Trotter.

"I could not say anything," was his reply.

The entire alleged confession which Mrs. Trotter testified to was denied by Trotter.

He said quarrels arose when Mrs. Trotter would charge he wanted the maid at their home to be in his room. These quarrels, he said, were due to his desire to have Sunday morning breakfast served in bed and arose when his clothes were being unpacked on his return from a trip.

On Sunday nights, as other witnesses have testified, there were quarrels when Mrs. Trotter would charge that he came to the mission only when her husband was there, that they went to worship Trotter and not their God.

"Was there anything between you and these women?"

There was not.

Mrs. Trotter made accusations of his parentage when others could hear, Trotter testified. On August 11, 1918, following an alleged attack upon Miss Moody by Mrs. Trotter, the evangelist said he led his wife into his office. He swore she screamed and said "Florence Moody had a baby and the man is to blame."

"I put my hand over her mouth to hold it shut," he explained.

At another time when the Trotters were in their cottage entertaining Mr. and Mrs. "Bob" Fitzgerald of Chicago, Mrs. Trotter he said, went to his room and showed him that she was the father of Moody's baby.

"I put my hand on her mouth and we fell over the bed, she on top of me," Trotter added.

He repeated the story told by O. D. Conner, his assistant, relative to Mrs. Trotter's charge, that he was the father of Florence Chow's last baby.

"I turned to Conner and said 'that's a new one,' Trotter testified.

"Was there any truth in it?" he was asked.

There was not.

Trotter also denied he had ever raised Ellen Landgren's skirts as Mrs. Trotter had testified.

Valuable Light Shed On Origin Of Hawaiian Race

HONOLULU, T. H., July 29.—Information which may throw valuable light on the mystery which surrounds the origin of the Hawaiian race was obtained in explorations on the Na Pali side of the island at a party of scientists under the direction of Dr. H. L. Gregory, of the Bishop museum. It was revealed when the party returned here.

The finest type of terracing for agriculture in the Hawaiian islands was found in the valleys on Kauai and the irrigation system displayed great engineering skill on the part of the ancient Hawaiians who lived there, Dr. Gregory said.

Gregory said a grow of an ancient outrigger canoe was found in one of the caves high up on a cliff. The prow contained three skulls which, on first examination, appeared to belong to some other race than the Hawaiian, probably to a race originating in more to the south. The skulls may hold the secret of the origin of the Hawaiians, Dr. Gregory said.

According to ancient Hawaiian legends, the people of the Nualolo and Kalaial valleys—the region of the coast explorations—were the only ones in the islands who were not mastered by Kamehameha the Great when he united the archipelago into a kingdom. The only entrances to the isolated valleys are up ladders or on narrow trails and it was easy for the inhabitants to repel attempted invasions.

Further investigation of the geology of Kauai is being made by Professor N. E. A. Hilde, instructor at Harvard university, who is the latest scientist to be admitted to the Bishop museum relationship. He is the third person to receive the award this year. It is an honorary award created by Yale university in co-operation with the museum and is intended for scholars whose problems involve first hand study of the Pacific.

Dr. Foster of the Philadelphia Academy of Science, an authority on fish in the Pacific and Professor Carl Skottberg, of Uppsala, Sweden, an expert on Pacific ocean plants are the other two scientists who have been admitted to the fellowship this year.

Dr. Foster will arrive here soon for a year's study of fish in Hawaiian waters. He also will make trips to Palmyra, Midway and the Fanning islands.

Officer Returns from Atlanta With Bobbitt

Police Officer W. T. Kessler returned this morning from Atlanta with J. T. Bobbitt, for whom he was sent, in connection with the theft of two automobiles. The charges against Bobbitt, who was formerly manager of the Pittsburgh hotel, is grand larceny. He is said to be wanted in connection with the theft and sale of two automobiles, and a warrant was issued at Atlanta some months ago, but he left that place before it could be served. It is said he had been in a hospital. Bobbitt is understood, expressed willingness to return to Danville and explain his connection with the sale of the two automobiles, which were found to have been stolen.

French Girl Who Sued Rothschild On Way To Paris

Max, 15, it is learned yesterday, she brought from Paris at least fifty costly gowns. After the preliminary inspection by customs officials at the pier she invited them to come to her rooms at the Ritz Carlton and complete their appraisal which they did.

When she sailed Wednesday, she took back not only the gowns she had brought, but several she had purchased here. Again she invited customs inspectors to check up her gowns before she sailed, but they waived examination.

Customs officials branded as untrue yesterday the rumor they had cabled to the French authorities to hold her on the ship upon her arrival in France for failure to comply with regulations here. Her attitude throughout, they said, had been open and above reproach.

Mlle Porquet's departure is in sharp contrast to the manner in which according to Mr. O. C. Ott, James Henry de Rothschild sailed about ten days ago.

According to Mr. Ott, the young man had planned to sail on the Paris, the French lines newest ship, but, fearful that Mlle. Porquet and her attorney would cause his arrest if he waited longer, took a train to Montreal and then crossed to New York on the "Slow" and less comfortable ship which landed him in France last Monday.

Mlle Porquet's complaint and her attorneys' statements set forth that after four years' friendship with de Rothschild, during which they talked of marriage many times, but without result owing to the young man's alleged fear of his father's wrath if he married outside his race, she came to this country in response to a cablegram and letter from young de Rothschild, who wrote that they could be married here.

During the time playing between the ending of the cablegram and letter and her arrival, she alleges, de Rothschild reconsidered with the result that he wrote her, advising her that her father, who she loved, he could not marry her because of his fear of his father.

Then, in the hope according to Mr. Ott, that it would accomplish the marriage, she started the breach of promise action. James Henry de Rothschild is back in Paris with his father. Mlle Porquet is on the way there, and the next chapter in the romance may be written where the story had its beginning—in Paris.

Irish Rebels Blast Jail, Releasing 105

BELFAST, July 29.—Through a hole blown in the wall by a mine 195 prisoners escaped from the Dundalk jail, county Louth, this morning. The shock of the explosion shook the town, shattering the windows of the county hospital and the houses of the town's best residential district. Fifty of them were quickly rearrested this afternoon.

The explosion was heard at every point within a ten-mile radius. The fugitives, who were being pursued by 100 Republicans, were scattered in small parties. One of these parties commandeered a locomotive in the Great Northern railway shed.

There was much fire here before and after the explosion and two ambulances were reported. Efforts were made to prevent the national forces from reaching the prison which was two miles from the military barracks.

Air and Sea Fleets To Battle Off Capes

WASHINGTON, July 29.—A mimic battle will be staged off the Virginia capes about the middle of August between the battleship fleet and the air force.

The scheduled maneuvers between the fighting ships and the naval air squadrons will be the first of the kind to be carried out on a comprehensive scale. The navy officers will represent generally in conditions to be met in possible air engagements in the future.

They will work out problems in which modern aircraft are pitted against modern fighting ships.

The personnel of the naval air station, Hampton Roads, has been assigned to the station for the purpose of carrying out the maneuvers. The planes take the air in daily practice flights to work out formation problems for attack on surface craft.

Spiritual Revival Needed To Restore World To Order

CHICAGO, July 29.—A fundamental change "in the spirit and working of our social and industrial life" is necessary to restore the world to peace and order, according to a declaration of social service principles which has been adopted by the National Council of the Episcopal church. The declaration has been recommended for adoption as the fixed policy of the church by the Episcopal general convention which will meet at Portland, Ore., Sept. 6.

The fundamental change proposed can only be effected, according to the declaration, "by accepting as the basis of all our relations the principle of co-operation in service for the common good, in place of unrestricted competition for private or sectional advantage."

A definition of the meaning of social service, and a platform embodying that definition, were adopted at a recent meeting of the department of Christian Social Service of the national council, and by that body referred to the national council, which has now given them its indorsement with the recommendation that they be approved by the national church. The declaration is as follows:

"Christian social service means the application of the principles of the gospel of Jesus Christ to all the relations into which men and women are brought, whether in government, industry, social or political life. It means definite obedience, by all who bear the Christian name and accept the Christian religion, to Christ's law of duty toward every neighbor—a neighbor being every person whether living near or far away, with whom one can establish the relationship of service."

"We understand one can establish the relationship of service."

"We understand the Christian religion to have a larger meaning and field than has been commonly recognized, and that its message concerns justice and righteousness, fairness and the application of the golden rule, to all men and by all men in whatever position or relation in life they may be. We understand that a position of any advantage conferred by material means, education, social or official position, carries with it responsibility towards those with whom one has to deal and forgiveness of such responsibility means the disobedience of the law of God."

"The church must serve all people the poor and the privileged alike, and must continue to stand for mercy, charity and compassion toward those who are in trouble, but beyond that it must stand for social justice, remembering that Jesus Christ died for all and that one soul is in His sight, and should be in the sight of His disciples, as precious as another."

"Those who are in positions in business professions or any calling in life where they have the service of others, whether as employers or in any other relation, should recognize the right of the employee to full opportunity for self-development. The welfare of human life should be emphasized above the value of property. Wages sufficient for wholesome living should be the return for efficient service, and the more that can be done in making the employer and the employed partners in business with a feeling of common and friendly interest and mutual respect, the better."

"We understand that the Christian Social Service means following the example of the Master, who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to mean obedience to the law of God. 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself,' and our work to bring the members of the church to realize this and so to fill out the ideal of Christ toward humanity."

The national council recommends to the general convention that the name of the church it take action as follows:

"Be it resolved, That in sympathy with the resolutions of the Lambeth Conference of 1920 we desire to emphasize our conviction that the pursuit of mere self-interest, whether individual or corporate, will never bring healing to the wounds of society. It should be recognized as an outstanding and pressing duty of the church to convince its members of the necessity of nothing less than a fundamental change in the spirit and working of our social and industrial life. This change can only be effected by accepting as the basis of all our relations the principle of co-operation in service for the common good in place of unrestricted competition for private or sectional advantage."

"Resolved Further, That in obedience to Christ's teaching as to co-operation and self-seeking, the general convention calls upon all members of His church to be foremost both in personal action and in the maintenance of the supreme authority of the church in life to those of property. To this end it would emphasize the duty of putting human values first of duty which is laid upon all Christians, avoiding extravagance and waste, and of upholding a high standard of honor and thoroughness in work. In a word, they must set an example in subordinating the claims for rights to the call of duty."

Blind Armenians Will Have School

ALEXANDROPOL, Armenia, July 1.—A school for the blind the first of its kind in Armenia, will be opened here this summer by the Near East Relief under the direction of Dr. R. C. This of Kansas City.

The pupils will be 150 Armenian orphans aged 5 to 14 years. Most of them are victims of trachoma, the dreaded eye disease which is the scourge of the Near East.

The school, operated in connection with the American trachoma house here, will be called "Cleveland House in honor of the city of Cleveland. Funds for the maintenance of the school are provided out of the war chest contribution which the city of Cleveland make annually to the Near East Relief.

Cleveland will be represented at the dedicatory exercises by Miss Jane Hardcastle of that city. The Armenian Relief government will be officially represented by the ministers of education and social welfare.

West Africa Is Growing Cotton

CAIRO, Egypt, July 29.—Steady progress is being made in the establishment of the Niger River valley cotton experiment station, located in West Africa. The work is being done under the auspices of the French colonial authorities of Occidental Africa, who have selected Dr. Herbert H. Forbes, former dean of the College of Agriculture of Arizona, to report on the proposed irrigation project.

The French Consortium Committee has allotted the money for the station, and definite installations will be begun as soon as the credits are in hand.

Cotton seed and a selection of cotton plants have been sent to the station from the United States and Egypt. Cultivated lands in the vicinity of Kulkoro and El-Ouadji, on the Niger above Timbuktu and bordering on French Senegal, are to be used for the experimental work. The first cultures will give returns during the winter of 1922-23. These will be used to secure a sufficient stock of pure cotton seed for the 1923-24 season.

The irrigation work contemplates ultimately an irrigation dam similar to the Assouan dam on the Nile. Temporary pumping stations to care

Morgan Denies Interest In Mexico City Bank

NEW YORK, July 29.—Reports from Mexico City that J. P. Morgan & Co. had taken an interest in the proposed Banco Unico de Mexico were denied by the Morgan firm today. The bank based the following statement:

"J. P. Morgan & Co. were seen this morning and said that they had not made any arrangements to take any interest in the Banco Unico de Mexico and that they would not be represented on its board in any way."

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Mexico City, the bank which will be established next January will have nominal capital stock of $200,000,000, half of which is to be subscribed, and the other half, represented by free shares held by the Mexican Government.

Of the 100,000,000 subscription shares 65 per cent, according to this source, is to be taken by the Banco de Paris and the Banco de Los Paises Bajos (Dutch), and the remainder by the houses of Morgan and Speyer and the British interests represented by Sir William Wiseman. Each of these interests will be represented on a governing board of five members.

J. P. Morgan can't devote much time to fiction. When he does he picks the best. That's why he selected A. A. Milne's brilliant, doted story, "The Red House Mystery," when he sailed for Europe last month. First installment Monday, July 31.

How To Keep Them At Home

By MARGARET HOSKINS

"Home is not merely four square walls, Though with pictures hung and gilded; Home is where affection calls— Where its shrine the heart has builded."

One of the great problems that American parents are facing today, is that of "How to keep the Child at Home." If they would realize that by means of attractive living quarters they could accomplish this, much unnecessary worry and expense could be avoided.

Where is there a girl or boy who does not like pretty furniture? Those whose residences are well furnished always cherish a great love for "home life." Where the crowd goes, your child goes; consequently, the up-to-date well-furnished home is the rendezvous.

If the anxious parents would properly furnish and drape their homes, their desire would soon be fulfilled, for instead of the children running to others, others would come to them. The parents then are given the opportunity of meeting and knowing the associates of the family's junior members, and can judge for themselves if the acquaintances should continue.

Encourage the boy to have his friends call; fix him a den in which he and they can retire to enjoy themselves in their boyish ways.

The daughter, when she reaches the age of sixteen, will expect to receive callers. If she cannot have them in her home, they will be met elsewhere. This not only reflects on the child, but on the parents as well.

Harmony is essential as the key-note of a well-furnished home. A person entering a room first gets the general effect as to whether the furnishing is pleasing to the eye or repulsive. After entering he begins to see the individual pieces and realize the merit of each. Much depends upon the first impression one gets on entering the room, for remember, you can read the character of the owners by the furnishings of their home.

A bright, correctly furnished home makes one feel as though all the cares of the world were unheard of to the owner, and that here is realized the spirit of happiness and the true joy of living. Should the room be dark—hung with heavy draperies and filled with numerous pieces of massive furniture, a sudden spirit of sadness assails one; gloom and dreariness seems to lurk in every corner, while the whole home has the atmosphere of being overshadowed by despair, so it is, you see, the furnishing of the home has a bearing upon our feelings.

Make the living room "homey," the sun parlor "light," the bedroom "restful," and the dining room "inviting," and you have the secret of correct furnishings.

The modern girl likes to have girl friends call. Furnish her room so she can entertain her guest there should she so desire.

Let the daughters and sons, advised by their parents, select their furniture, for some time they will have homes of their own, and thus they learn how the correct piece of furniture makes a correctly appointed room. Have the child see that it is his home, open to his friends, and that part of the responsibility of making the "home beautiful" is his.

Childhood is the impressionable age of life, and when the children become men and women, let them be able to say—for comfort, harmony, and hospitality—"There Was No Place Like Home."

COAL IS BEING MINED IN THE PENNSY FIELDS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 28.—The battle of hoisted coal was waged at the mines in Washington county today. This was the second day of the organized campaign of the Pittsburgh coal producers' association to resume operation without an agreement with the United Mine Workers of America.

Pennsylvania cavalrymen were on duty near the mines. There was no disorder.

Two Associated Press representatives made an automobile tour of the Washington county area this afternoon. Strikers talked freely. So did the guardsmen and deputy sheriffs.

Two developments were noticeable throughout the tour. Families of union miners were moving out of company houses in the districts where mines were being re-opened. One of the two residents offered the explanation that the male workers had "got jobs on farms" and intended to leave the districts permanently.

Wives of miners, merchants, and deputies throughout this region corroborated reports that there was a general belief that the crisis in the coal strike situation—in this district at least—rapidly was approaching.

Union leaders denied that any of their men had returned to the mines. It was admitted by strikers at Monroeville that coal had been shipped from that mine last night.

The general belief that operators intended gradually to increase their output has caused the military to prepare for any possible emergency.

RESIDENTS ARE WARNED OF FLOOD

DENVER, July 28.—Cherry Creek, which runs through a portion of the city, left its banks at Speer Boulevard and Logan street tonight and residents in the district are warned to move. A cloudburst at Parker was responsible. The overflow is three blocks east of the principal north and south thoroughfare in Denver. The creek is still rising.

It was believed that no great damage would result unless further rains began falling. Highways in the vicinity of Parker were flooded to a depth of more than one foot. Telephone messages to police headquarters said the approaches to several bridges between Parker and Denver had been washed out.

54,000 Ton Evidence Of Claude A. Swanson's Value As A U. S. Senator

Saved A Virginia City

Monster S. S. LEVIATHAN—She is here shown approaching Newport News, where she will give employment to over 1,000 men for twelve months, at a cost of $5,000,000 to $10,000,000,000—the work being done by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company.

LEVIATHAN is 54,282 tons and 950 feet long—nearly one-fifth of a mile. Her funnels (30 feet in diameter) will more than accommodate a train of cars with a passenger platform on each side. As a coal burner, she consumed 1,200 tons daily—sufficient to last a family 100 years. She is 40 feet under water, and 140 feet from the water to the top of her funnels. Her crew will consist of over 1,000 men and she will carry 3,636 passengers—a small city's population.

Repair of LEVIATHAN and completion of battleship WEST VIRGINIA, secured through Senator Swanson's efforts in the face of powerful political opposition, mean $15,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 for Virginia workmen and general circulation.

LEONARD GASED IN WAR

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
TAUNTON, Mass., July 29.—What would you do if you came home and found your wife married to another?

Would you turn with emotion, let your voice roar with hate?

Or would you calmly forgive, forget—and love all the more?

That's just what Edgar Nelson Leonard, war veteran did when he returned from Germany.

And found that Mrs. Leonard thinking him dead, had become the bride of Victor F. Charter.

The two husbands met in front of the Taunton home.

The wife had to choose between them.

"It was the greatest test a woman could be put to," says Leonard. "In a flash she made her decision."

"I love you," she told the other man to go.

Swears Out Warrant
He went to court secured a warrant for her arrest on a charge of bigamy.

The case, Mrs. John H. Sullivan, charged with bigamy, was heard before the grand jury in the fall, but the Leonards aren't worrying.

"We have each other again," they say, "and that's all that counts."

They are sure their story will have a happy ending—although "nearly veered off tragedy."

Happily married since 1924, they were never separated until the war began. At the end of the war, Leonard returned to his home in Taunton.

"I wanted to hold him back," says the wife, "but I couldn't. It was just a matter of time."

She had been married to Victor F. Charter, a man who had been in the army with her husband.

SEPARATE SETTLEMENT NEGOTIATIONS BROKEN OFF

BALTIMORE, Md., July 28.—Negotiations for a separate settlement of the shipyard's strike on the Baltimore shipyard, ended abruptly today when the shipyard's union refused to accept the terms of the settlement.

The union's refusal was based on the fact that the settlement did not provide for a national settlement of the strike.

ELBERT'S PAY UP WITH DOLLARS: NOW 1,800,000 MARKS A YEAR

BERLIN, July 28.—Watching the rate of exchange in order that an adequate sum may be obtained to what the morning will bring forth in the way of higher prices for commodities has become a national pastime in Germany.

Today marked the advent of President Elbert himself to the ranks of the Boerse "fans" for the President's salary hereafter will be determined by the index figure.

Thus every time the dollar climbs, the index figure shoots up and with it the chief executive's pay check.

Under the 1922 budget the President's salary is 300,000 marks. Owing to the depreciation in the mark he will now receive emoluments for June calculated on the yearly basis of 1,400,000 marks, for July on 1,500,000 marks and for August will be 1,600,000 marks.

STAUTON PRESENTS CLAIMS FOR COLLEGE

STAUTON, Va., July 28.—Stauton today laid its claims as the most desirable site for the new Class 'A' college of the Presbyterian Synod of Virginia before the synod's committee on general education work.

The committee made an inspection of Mary Baldwin Seminary this morning, attended a luncheon in its honor at midday, this afternoon was taken on an automobile tour of Staunton and vicinity, and later went through to the financial phases of opening a college here.

It makes its recommendations on the choice of a site for the new college at the next meeting of the Synod of Virginia at Ginter Park, Richmond, September 19, and it is believed that Staunton has an excellent chance of obtaining the new educational institution.

SEES BERLIN TURN EAST FOR ALLIANCE

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Unless Germany is admitted to the League of Nations at the next meeting of the council, the Germans will ease up their efforts to obtain admission and look eastward for future political alignments.

This view is being urged in London by Lord Robert Cecil, who insists that the British Government must secure the assent of France to Germany's admission.

Lord Robert thinks further refusal to admit Germany will be playing into the hands of Prussian monarchists and Russian Bolsheviks, and will strengthen the forces, which are reacting the monarchist movement.

STRIKERS ABLE TO CONTINUE TO FIGHT TO THE END

CHICAGO, July 28.—(Associated Press.)—Curtailment of expenses, self-denial and rigid economy for two years in the preparation of the present shop crafts strike makes it possible for the men to "fight the un-finish" John Scott, secretary-treasurer of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor declared today.

"Our organization is so large that we cannot pay strike benefits," Scott said. "This is a strike without benefits. But none of our men is in distress. They were prepared for this strike and can give the roads all the strike they can give."

The number of the men are taking the strike as a sort of vacation. Some of them are working in other industries, but none of them has gone to other railroad centers to work under assumed names. At least no such reports have come to me.

The strike has not lasted long enough to make any serious effect in the personal funds of the strikers. But we have assurance that if the men need credit at the stores, it will be forthcoming.

Members of the shop crafts organization have been out only 28 days and they firmly believe they can hold out much longer without seeking credit or borrowing money. A spirit of optimism prevails among union leaders, the men believing that "the railroads will soon be licked."

TO FILL RESERVE BOARD PLACES

WASHINGTON, July 28.—President Harding is preparing to make soon two appointments to the Federal reserve board to fill the expiring term of Governor W. P. G. Harding, and to fill a new place authorized by Congress and urged by agricultural interests as a position for a "dry" farmer.

In the consideration of the latter position, three men were said today to be prominent. They are: Howard of Michigan, President Howard of the American farm bureau, and W. P. Houston, a Missouri farmer.

The re-appointment of Governor Harding was said to be still undecided.

MRS. TROTTER'S MIND QUESTIONED AT TRIAL

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 27.—Two physicians who treated Mrs. Lotie M. Trotter, questioned her mental condition according to their testimony in Superior court today in her separate maintenance action against Rev. Melvin E. Trotter, superintendent of the City Rescue mission.

4 SUBMARINES ARE MISSING

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Four submarines which left Los Angeles Tuesday for Hampton Roads, as part of a flotilla of 12, scheduled for decommissioning, today were reported missing off the lower California coast south of Eureka.

The craft said to be missing are the L-5, L-6, L-7 and L-8, all of which were built at Long Beach, Calif., during the war.

The story of their apparent disappearance was brought here by the liner City of Honolulu, Captain Thomas W. Sheridan, from New York.

Captain Sheridan said that yesterday he sighted a cloud of smoke some distance away and changed his ship's course to learn the cause.

"It was a submarine, badly smoking," he said. "It made no answer to our signals."

"Later," continued Captain Sheridan, "we sighted the tender Beaver, which had the submarine in convoy. At first she made no answer to our signals, but later responded to our semaphore offer of assistance. She said she had eight submarines in convoy and needed no help."

A message received at the submarine base at Los Angeles harbor from Roy L. Slover, commander of the submarine flotilla, stated he had eight submarines in convoy, making no reference to the other four.

The submarine base also intercepted a message from the tender Beaver to the L-5, ordering her to stand by and take a tow line from the L-5. Officers at the submarine base tonight were said to be unable to account for these two craft or the other two of the L type, reported missing.

ST. PAULS IS IN NEED OF REPAIR

LONDON, July 28.—St. Paul's Cathedral, the famous Valhalla of the British empire and the masterpiece of Sir Christopher Wren, architect, is subject to the ravages of time. Certain repair and reconstruction work is imperative to save the building from possible collapse, and £100,000 is being sought to pay the bill.

DOCTOR ORDERED WOMAN OBEYED

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and is Now Well

Chicago, Illinois.—"You surely gave women one good medicine when you put Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on the market. After I had my baby I was all run down and so nervous it kept me from gaining. My doctor did everything he could to build me up, then he ordered me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with his medicine and I am now a new woman."

Lydia E. Pinkham babies. I have recommended your medicine to several friends and they speak highly of it. You are certainly doing good work in this world."—Mrs. ADRIAN TOMSHECK, 10567 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

There is nothing very strange about the doctor directing Mrs. Tomsheck to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. There are many physicians who do recommend it and highly appreciate its value.

Women who are nervous, run down, and suffering from women's ailments should give this well-known root and herb medicine a trial. Mrs. Tomsheck's experience should guide you towards health.

On the Record of My Service I Ask the Support of My Fellow Citizens In the Primary Election On August 1st

In seeking your support in the primary election for a superintendent of Public Utilities, to be held Tuesday, August 1st, believing that the subsequent figures, taken mainly from the records of the city, will be of especial interest to you, I beg to submit the following:

Beginning work for the City of Danville in 1890, under the late Capt. C. A. Ballou, for many years Superintendent of Public Utilities, I continued in this employment until the death of Captain Ballou in 1903, serving during the latter part of this employment as Assistant Superintendent, on request made of the City Council by Captain Ballou. Since 1913, I have served as Superintendent of Public Utilities, managing the city's properties with the following results:

Total Disbursements in Operating City's Properties	$3,659,751.51
Excess Turned Over to the General Tax Fund of the City	$ 469,304.34

In the above amount scheduled under Disbursements, all Property improvements are embraced, including expenditures for the present modern equipment—Pumping Station and Filtering Plant, New Gas Plant, New Electric Plant and Northside Booster Pumping Station, all of which were constructed under my direct supervision—the sum of $684,469.64.

And while a return of $469,304.34 has been made to the city on its properties, gas, water and electricity has been furnished to the citizens at very low rates, for in comparison with rates charged in Greensboro, Raleigh, Durham, Winston-Salem and other cities similarly situated as Danville, in regard to freight rates—freight rates on coal being one of the main items of expense in the manufacture of the city's utilities—there has been effected an estimated saving to the citizens of $1,330,000.00.

Due largely to the surplus from operation of the city's utilities amounting to $469,304.34, Danville has continuously enjoyed a lower tax rate than other Virginia cities, Danville's tax rate being 1.75 per $100.00, while the tax rates of these other cities are as follows: Lynchburg, 1.90; Petersburg, 2.00; Portsmouth, 2.10; Richmond, 2.10; Roanoke, 2.20, and Norfolk 2.25. The average tax rate of these six cities is 2.09, which in comparison with Danville, shows a lower rate in our favor amounting to 34 cents per $100.00, which represents a saving of considerable amount to each individual tax payer.

From the foregoing statements, all of which may be verified, you will see that during my administration, which has been the work of my lifetime, I have served the city well and faithfully, and in asking your support, I believe that my record entitles me to your support, unless my opponent has better qualifications and more experience to offer.

In placing before you these facts regarding my administration of the city's properties while I have served you as Superintendent of Public Utilities, I desire to say that should you re-elect me to this position, I promise to give to the city the same efficient service in the future that I have ever striven to give in the past.

Very respectfully,

FRANK TALBOTT

LONDON DOES NOT LIKE SKY SCRAPER

LONDON, July 28.—The London county council has made some concessions to the demand of West End business firms that they be allowed to erect loftier and more commodious stores, but these concessions fall far short of permitting the construction in London of buildings modeled after American skyscrapers.

"The concession as to height asked was for 120 feet maximum on favorable sites," explained the secretary of the Retail Distributors' Association, which had been the prime mover in the matter. "We have been authorized to put up buildings that are 50 feet high to the ceiling of the topmost floor, and on favorable sites the municipality may permit buildings to be erected that are 100 or even 140 feet high."

"The London county council has conceded greater space for departments. The old regulations restricted cubic capacity to 200,000 feet. This was imposed because the old-fashioned methods of displaying new materials in buildings of a congested nature increased the risk of fire."

"The concession of a cubic capacity of 500,000 feet which has now been made, or a limit of 40,000 square feet floor space for any one department, will enable us to secure floor space equal to that of any of the magnificent stores in America, with one or two exceptions."

How far London is from having attained the skyscraper stage will be realized when it is understood that the highest building in London is Whitehall court, the home of the National Labor club, which is 110 feet high. The highest building in the country is in Liverpool, and is 420 feet high to the top of the tower, but the actual main building is only 210 feet high. The next highest is a steamship company building, also in Liverpool, and is 145 feet high.

CONSIDER REPLACEMENT OF BROOKLYN BRIDGE

NEW YORK, July 28.—Structural engineers tonight rushed to the defense of the sturdy spans of Brooklyn bridge, declaring the famous structure to be good "for centuries" when they learned that Grover Whalen, commissioner of plants and structures, today had told Mayor Hylan he planned the early calling of an engineer's conference to discuss its replacement.

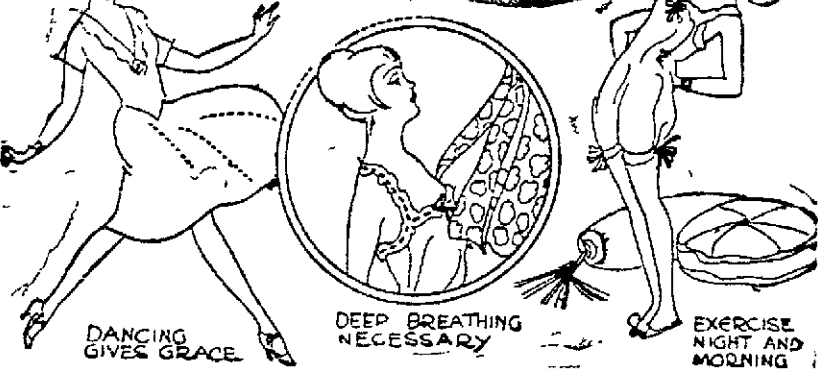

A giant cable, almost 16 inches in diameter, which helps support the roadway between the towers and the electric railway, a total of hundreds of thousands of tons, has slightly stretched, reported Commissioner Whalen. Engineers of his department take this as the forerunner of the disintegration of the entire structure.

STORES FIRED UPON

NASHVILLE, July 28.—The sheriff reported stores in several towns had been fired upon, that threats had been made to stores and commissaries on the Kentucky line and that the situation was beyond control of the local authorities.

Governor Taylor said he would confer with Adjutant General Buford tomorrow and that no troops would be sent unless a second request came.

HERE'S HOW MARGARET PETIT GAINED HER FAMOUS GRACE

BY MARGARET PETIT
Dancer Celebrated for Her Grace

An ungraceful body will destroy the charm of the most beautiful face, while a graceful one will redeem the plainest features.

Grace is the result of complete control.

No training teaches such absolute control as dancing—classic dancing, not the ball-room variety.

Correct breathing and arm exercises also should be a part of every woman's program, night and morning.

Let your arms hang free from your shoulders and place the hands side by side, palms inward and thumbs interlaced in front of you. Raise the hands straight over your head, inhaling a deep breath. Hold your arms free while you count five. Then slowly lower the while you exhale.

Dancing, running and kicking have value because they exercise the muscles of the legs.

Sweeping is very fine exercise as a woman holds her broom properly. Walking upstairs is recommended as a flesh reducer.

When dressing and undressing, practice walking on your toes—excellent for your feet and ankles.

KING OF ANNAM HAS HIGH TIME VISITING PARIS

PARIS, July 28.—Dressed in a business suit of sober black, a quiet, unobtrusive little yellow-skinned man has been a constant visitor recently to the museums of art, painting and sculpture in the French capital.

Few people recognized Khai-Dinh, Far East potentate, emperor of Annam, Indo-China, who adorned in flowing robes of silk, his hair decorated with gold lace, the Red and Yellow Order of the Dragon of Annam on his breast almost hidden by a large plaque of pure gold set with huge diamonds, was seen in the presidential box at Longchamp on the day of the Grand Prix.

A few years ago no one in his capital of Hue was permitted to stand erect before the emperor or look him squarely in the eye; yet in the museums tourists pushed him about and elbowed him out of the way when he stood too long before a work of art.

One of the first questions Khai-Dinh asked after he had been installed in the ministry of colonies, his home while in Paris was: "Where is there a first class tailor in town?" A representative of a leading Parisian tailoring firm called, but the emperor found his clothes too gaudy and requested him to return with blue, brown and black samples. The emperor ordered six suits of the more sober patterns. His official robes show practically all the colors of the rainbow.

A great lover of art, Khai-Dinh had the entire row of palaces used as the residence of royalty in Hue practically remodeled, both inside and outside, since his accession to the throne in 1916. His visits to the museums of Paris have been made especially for the purpose of finding a plan for the reconstruction of the tomb of his ancestor Dong-Khanh, the founder of the dynasty, 20 centuries ago.

A strict follower of the doctrine of Confucius, Khai-Dinh's respect for the memory of his ancestors amounts to religion, and the mausoleum which he intends erecting to Dong-Khanh will be one of the purest examples of far-east architecture known.

Alexandre Marcel, official architect of the French government, is to assist in the drawing up of the plan and the emperor has made several calls upon the architect, suggesting modifications and ideas.

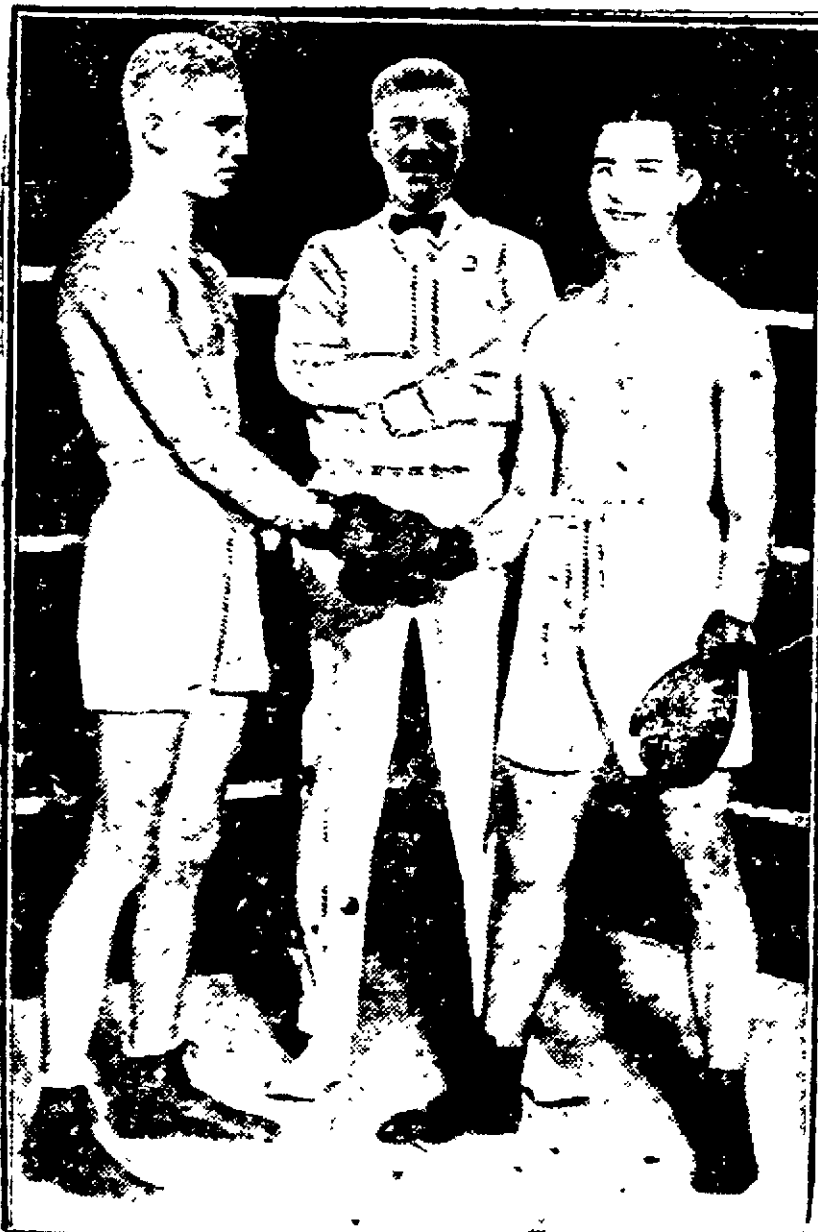

Khai-Dinh has given much trouble to the secret service men entrusted by the French government with the task of protecting his sacred person. He "sips in and out of museums, attended only by a few of his entourage, and several times he has eluded their vigilance.

Khai-Dinh, before he was allowed to travel incognito in Paris, was the guest at several official functions, including many dinners and luncheons. He was present at all in full regalia, but toward the end of his official stay, he evinced some inattentiveness and an earnest desire to enter upon private life. To one of the last invitations to a dinner, the emperor replied:

"Yes, I'll go providing there are no speeches."

The emperor will leave for Hue in August, but he will remain in Paris, where French tutors will teach him French literature and western civilization and fit him for the high place which he is to occupy one day at Hue, one of the fundamental requirements of which is that he be a friend of France and a student of French culture.

PLOT AGAINST POINCARÉ HAS CAUSED STIR

PARIS, July 28.—(By The Associated Press)—A brief official note issued this afternoon announcing that the government had learned from an authoritative source that German monarchists were plotting to kill Premier Poincaré. The note caused a mild sensation in official and diplomatic circles. Beyond the bare statement that it had been learned of the plot the foreign office refused all comment. In diplomatic quarters, however, it was said that the first news of the plot had reached the French embassy in Berlin through the Berlin police.

When Premier Poincaré left Paris this evening to spend the week-end at his country home in the Department of the Meuse, elaborate precautions for his safety were taken at the railway stations. Detectives accompanied him to his country home and as an added precaution a pilot enroute would station in official and diplomatic circles. Beyond the bare statement that it had been learned of the plot the foreign office refused all comment. In diplomatic quarters, however, it was said that the first news of the plot had reached the French embassy in Berlin through the Berlin police.

MRS. MCCORMICK HOPES FOR DELAY OF MARRIAGE

GENEVA, July 28.—(Associated Press)—Mrs. Stanley R. McCormick of Chicago, discussing today the reported engagement of Mathilde McCormick to Max Oser, the former Swiss riding master, said:

"Although there is an understanding between Mathilde and Oser it cannot be called an engagement. We hope that Mathilde will wait another year, when she will have arrived at her majority, before deciding on marriage."

Mrs. McCormick with her mother has just rented a beautiful chateau at Frangins, near Geneva. The chateau once was the property of Napoleon.

CRUDE OIL IS FOUND IN CULPEPER WELL

CULPEPER, Va., 28.—F. E. Campbell, contractor and driller of Carrollton, Ohio, who has contracted to drill an 1,500-foot well for the Brady Oil Corporation on J. W. Albert's "Bel Pre" farm one-half mile from Brady Station, states that a depth of 200 feet has been reached and that black crude oil has been noticeable since a depth of 100 feet.

The citizens of Brady feel sure that oil will be discovered in large quantities, as they have been closely observing indications of the presence of oil for the past ten years.

WILL INSPECT PORT

ATLANTA, Ga., July 28.—Members of the Georgia legislature left tonight on a special train for an inspection of port facilities at Savannah where it has been proposed to establish state-owned terminals. The legislature will return Monday morning.

SWEDEN WARNS ITS PROFITEERS

STOCKHOLM, July 28.—The profit of the Swedish nation, dealing in necessities, especially food supplies, are menaced as the result of the investigation into living costs by a commission of experts appointed by the Swedish government. The commission sought information on intermediary profits and their influence on living costs with a view to eliminating unnecessary profits, thus cutting down retail prices, and has just issued its report. It makes some drastic recommendations. Official action is expected.

The commission recommends a reduction in the number of retail stores; that a permanent national statistical bureau be organized by the social board to study producers' prices, and that local commissions be appointed throughout the country to check up on price movements. It suggests that the theory of co-operative work be introduced in suitable schools as a compulsory subject of study, and emphasizes the importance of closer cooperation between producer and consumer.

The commission criticizes the railroad administration and the municipal authorities of Swedish cities for having neglected in many instances to heed popular demand for suitable and economic organization of the distribution and transport of commodities. The price policies of breweries are especially criticized, while the price of bread is declared to be high, and the profits made by bakers entirely too great.

Some shops are now selling partly finished lingerie—that is, finished with the exception of the trimming. This the buyer may add to suit her particular taste and her pocketbook. It is an excellent idea for women who dislike to cut and put together their garments, but enjoy doing the decorative touches.

This is the novel which Heywood Brown in the N. Y. World calls "the best murder story since Sherlock Holmes shut up shop." It is the yarn which J. P. Morgan read to relax his mind before the conference of international bankers in Paris.

WILL TRY TO BEAT LADY NANCY ASTOR

LONDON, July 28.—Opposition to Lady Nancy Astor at the next general election because of her views on prohibition became definitely known today when it was announced that a section of the conservative organization at Plymouth approached in London Dr. N. W. Bayley and asked him to oppose the American born woman for parliament.

According to a Plymouth announcement the conservative voters are of the opinion that a conservative should not be allied or even in sympathy with prohibition. Dr. Bayley today acknowledged being approached to make the race but said he would not decide until he visited Plymouth.

—Edgar W. Smith, buyer for the Imperial Tobacco Company accompanied by his wife left today for the South Carolina tobacco markets.

Dr. W. E. Jennings and Mrs. Jennings have returned from a visit to Asheville, N. C.

Evening Clothes on the Border

Full dress, so to speak, is worn frequently on informal occasions along the Mexican border since Mr. Volstead's act began to influence social usages. If you'll look at the fellow Officer R. D. Brown, of Brownsville, Texas, is searching you'll know what we mean.

HOME RULE IS INDIA'S HOPE

FEMANTLE Australia July 28.—Home rule for India with dominion status is the objective of the Indian people, according to Mrs. Anne Besant, the well-known theosophist leader, who arrived here recently.

In the course of an interview Mrs. Besant said everything would be well in India, she thought, if Britain or a world grant the country home rule.

The people here, she said, in preparation were beginning to appreciate that he was not the day's work, but he was a man who when they had believed him to be. She anticipated that action along constitutional lines would place revolutionary parties and would bring peace to India within a reasonable time.

AGENTS WERE WAITING

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 28.—Federal prohibition agents were waiting at a dock this morning when booze runners attempted to land with 250 quarts of their liquor and succeeded in capturing the whole lot, seizing the launch, two automobiles and arresting two persons.

May Go Away With the Slums

LONDON, July 28.—Twenty-two of the worst slum areas in London are to be wiped out by the London city council. The work is to be spread over the next ten or 12 years and the government will assist in it.

"When the scheme, which involves nothing less than the clearance of all of the slum areas in London, is completed," says Colonel Leys, chairman of the housing committee, "it will have enabled the displacement of some 25,000 people, and an expenditure of many millions of pounds. The main idea is to make London a slumless city."

Such work cannot, of course, be done on a strictly economic basis but London will be built greatly by the intensive campaign it is intended to pursue for better housing all round the city.

FABRICS ELABORATE BUT LINES SIMPLE IN EVENING GOWNS

WHEN the shades of night are falling fast the fashionable woman puts on a gown of this sort.

The lines of the dress are very simple. The fabric is of a rich, deep color, and the design is a simple, elegant pattern. The dress is made of a heavy, luxurious fabric, and the lines are simple and elegant.

For really formal wear there are glistening lines of sequins and shimmering lines of satin. The dress is made of a heavy, luxurious fabric, and the lines are simple and elegant.

RESIGNATION DEFERRED
BRISTOL, Va., Tenn., July 28.—Tate O. Keadle, manager of the Bristol team, in the Appalachian League tonight in Johnson City, declared he would resign. If Catcher Keadle's resignation is accepted, the team will be managed by E. Massengill of the local club.

—Mrs. J. P. Bennett, who has been quite ill at the home of her mother, Mrs. Clara Bennett, at Ferrum, Va., is reported better.

NO PRINCE FOR THIS REAL-LIFE
PRINCESS; STUDY IS HER LOT

PRINCESS GIOVANNA OF ITALY

ROME, July 29.—This is the story of a real-life princess and it isn't the least like a fairy tale. It is about Princess Giovanna, fourth child of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena of Italy. She is only 13.

She doesn't sit on a throne and receive the attentions of handsome princes who ride milk-white horses and wear long swords at their sides. She never is troubled by enchanters who might try to bewitch her. She never has been kidnapped by a villainous sorcerer and then rescued by another.

Hard Work Her Lot

Instead, Princess Giovanna has to spend much time in hard study. She has just taken the state public school examinations, which all Italian children have to take, and she has passed with high honors.

Of course, Princess Giovanna has private tutors and governesses but that doesn't excuse her from keeping up to the standard of education set for other boys and girls of her age. No getting out of lessons or sulking because papa is a king.

In recent competition for Princess Giovanna to take the public school examinations. But it is a custom of the royal family to have all its children undergo these tests.

What She Studies

The branches in which she was awarded a diploma were Italian history, geography, mathematics, science, French, drawing, writing, domestic science and gymnastics. The examinations lasted eight days.

When it was all over Giovanna went home and, just like any good American girl who had made her parents proud, she was given a special dinner with an extra helping of a dessert of which she is especially fond.

Russians Not
Easy To Deceive

(By the Associated Press)
KAZAN, July 29.—The Russian peasant, upon intimate contact, has been found to be not so illiterate or so stupid as it has been the habit to represent him. While he may not always be able to read he possesses a natural shrewdness and intelligence which stand him in good stead. A practical common sense is often a good substitute for book learning.

American relief administration workers have had much to do with the Russian peasant in their various activities in these lands and have come to regard him with respect.

"How is it," one of the Russian interpreters was asked, "that although these peasants cannot read and write they seem to be able to make accurate computations and to master the intricacies of the Russian currency?"

They seem to understand perfectly even the new bank notes in which those marked 100 rubles equal those put out last year which were worth 1,000,000.

They appreciate the value of "stupidity," was the answer. "They like to appear simple more simple than they are. It is partly a pose with them, but it has its practical side too. They appear guileless and manage to drive a good bargain because their very guilelessness allays the suspicion dealing."

If hand them a 1,000,000 ruble note of the former value which they are "What is this," they ask. I tell them that it is a million. They accept it. But try handing them a 100,000 ruble note and say that it is a million. They will shake their heads. You may point out that it has many ciphers following the figure. They will not accept it. "But, you persist," you cannot read why do you think I am lying to you? "But I have never seen that sort of a million before," they answer and they will not take it.

You take a paper from a peasant to be signed. He looks at it and asks, "What is this?" You read it to him. He nods but protests that he cannot write. Let someone else write his name on it," he says and later he may repudiate the agreement saying that he never signed it and did not even know what it contained.

"I believe that many of them who can both read and write are careful to conceal that knowledge, believing that it will be to their advantage to do so. They are not so stupid as they appear."

PART OF MINERS
ASKED TO WORK

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. July 29.—Governor McCray today sent a telegram to John Hessler, president of the district number 11, United Mine Workers of America asking that a sufficient number of miners be permitted to return to work in Indiana to provide coal for the state institutions and the public utilities.

In his telegram to Mr. Hessler, Governor McCray renewed the invitation to the Indiana miners to meet with the Indiana operators in a state conference to adjust the Indiana strike situation. Little hope was expressed, however, that the miners would join a conference of this kind, following their refusal in meetings with the governor earlier in the week.

RUSSIAN FAMINE
BELIEVED BROKEN

MOSCOW, July 28.—A brief inspection trip in Nizhni, Samara, Tver and Rostov undertaken by a group of American Relief Administration officials has confirmed the existing impression that the Russian famine had been broken.

Famine deaths have practically ceased, the crops look good, and the people in the regions mentioned are expecting a good harvest. Upon the report of these A. R. A. members to Secretary Hoover will be based the decision as to whether it will be necessary for the A. R. A. to remain in Russia after September or October of this year.

HEAVY DAMAGE
FROM STORM

WINCHESTER, Va., July 28.—Heavy damage as a result of a wind and hail storm last night was reported today from sections of Frederick, Clarke, Warren and Fauquier counties. Streams overflowed, farm buildings were partly wrecked and trees were blown down, causing damage including crops and garden truck the latter due to overflowing streams. The town of Boyce was under three feet of water and the colonial estates there and in the Millwood section of Clarke were flooded. Reports on the damage were incomplete tonight because of crippled wires.

Boys Make Money
Selling Papers

Unusual opportunities are open to boys twelve years or over, selling the Register and Bee daily. One hundred per cent. profit on sales. The new unjust child labor law will force many of the young newsboys to give up a profitable business for the present.
